This $20,000 claim has become an obsession with and is likely to affect negatively his relationship with the agency unless resolved to his relative satisfaction. Attached for background information are documents relating to Mr. claim.

3. After careful consideration of the equities involved in this case it is my belief that security considerations dictate that we settle claim in the following manner. I will approve an increase in his annual payment by $4,000 effective April 1979 (from $37,270 to $41,270). Thereafter, his annual compensation would be increased each october in the amount identical to the cost of living increase given to US Government employees. - A. Memo Dated 16 February 1970 From DC/Security Research Staff
- B. Memo Dated 14 August 1972 From DC/Security Research Staff
- 6. Acknowledgement and Rolease Form Dated 12 July 1973
- 1. A careful review of the PDDONOR file substantiates the fact that there were three unequivocal financial commitments made to PDDONOR at the time of his defection in February 1964. These three commitments were:
 - a. He would be paid $25,000 for each of the two years he cooperated in place. Total $50,000.
 - b. He would receive $10,000 for his part in identifying William Vassel, a British. Admirally employee as a KGB agent.
 - c. He would receive $25,000 per year salary from the Agency.
- 2. The question at issue now is whether an additional commitment was also made to PDDONOR to the effect that the Agency would provide financial assistance to him to purchase a home. According to PDDONOR, on 30 January 1964 in Geneva prior to his defection in a conversation with his case officer, Mr. Tennent Bagley he stated, "I will arrive with what I have on my back no home no roof no anything." The reply to PDDONOR was as follows: "This will be taken care of. It will be provided." This exchange in PDDONOR's view, constituted

OCL RYW	14	Feb-90-
DAY D9c.1	_87	-

what he believes was a commitment on the part of the Agency to provide him with financial assistance in the purchase of a home. A memorandum dated 16 February 1970, written by Mr. Bruce Solie describes this verbal exchange between PDDONOR and his case officer. (See Reference A). In addition, a memorandum dated 14 August 1972 also written by Mr. Solie (Reference B) states that "Nosenko stated that prior to his defection in Geneva, he discussed his future with Bagley and made three requests, these being:

- a. Employment at $25,000 per year;
- b. $50,000 in savings account;
- c. Assistance in purchasing a house.

According to Noscako, Bagley, a day or two later, informed Noscako that his requests had been approved and Noscako considers this constituted a valid verbal contract."

- 3. From PDDONOR's viewpoint therefore an additional commitment, quite separate and apart from the three fisted in paragraph 1 was made to him. Consequently, he now argues that a payment made to him in July 1970, in the amount of $20,000 and which he used as a downpayment on a house, was the fulfillment of this additional commitment and not part of the $50,000 he was promised for his two years in place. This despite the fact that in the 14 August 1972 nemorandum as Mr. Solie states in paragraph 5, ... "Nosenko also considers that the assistance in purchasing furniture, a house, etc., which he has been given since 1969 should be considered as cancelling the matter of the $50,000.
- 4. What seems to have occurred is a change of position on PDDONOR's part. While previously acknowledging that the original $50,000 commitment had been met (paragraph 5 of Reference B) PDDONOR now takes the position that of the below listed payments only $30,000 should be applied against the $50,000 commitment. The July 1970 payment of $20,000 should be applied against a separate commitment to provide assistance in purchasing a home.

$2,000 in March 1964 $8,000 in May 1969 $5,000 on 1 July 1970 $20,000 on 1 July 1970 (According to PDDONOR this payment should not be applied against the $50,000 commitment) $15,000 on 12 July 1973

Thus, according to PDDONOR's reasoning $20,000 is still due him as part of the original $50,000 commitment.

- S. Scycral additional points should be noted. On 2 July 1971 PDDONOR signed an "Acknowledgment and Release" prepared by the General Counsel in which PDDONOR releases and forever discharges the US Government and the Agency from any claim for money promised to him. (Reference C). In addition, the issue of the $20,000 he says is still owed him does not surface in the file until September 1978, 14 years after his defection. The explanation of why this issue would arise at this late date is not clear from available records.
- 6. Attached are copies of those documents which impact on this issue. Because of the complexities of this case I recommend that we request the Office of General Counsel to review the entire case and provide a ruling on the legitimacy of PDDONOR's claim of $20,000. After such a ruling we can discuss our future course of action.

MEMORANDUM FOR : Chief, Counterintelligence Staff

FROM : John A. Rizzo

Assistant General Counsel

SUBJECT : Financial Commitments to PDDONOR/1

1. This is in response to your memorandum of 23 February 1979 which requests our opinion concerning CIA's existing financial obligations to PDDONOR/1, a former highranking KGB offscer who defected to this country in February 1964 after having cooperated in place for the previous two years: Based on information contained in CI Staff files, there appears no question that the Agency made three documented, unequivocal promises to PDDONOR/1 at the time of his defection:

- a) he would be paid a total of $50,000 ($25,000 per annum) in consideration for his previous two years' service in place;
- b) he would receive a $10,000 payment for his part in identifying a certain KGB operative in the British government; and
- c) he would be placed under contract for an indefinite period" after his defection at a yearly salary of $25,000, with accompanying provision for retirement and other benefits.

Your memorandum seeks our assistance in resolving the issue of whether or not the Agency has, as PDDONOR/I asserts, any current, independent obligation to pay PDDONOR/I $20,000 based on an oral commitment made to him by a now-retired CIA officer at the time of his defection promising him the Agency's financial assistance in his securing a residence in this country.

ALL PORTIONS ARE CLASSIFIED SECRET

- As you know, due to unforseen and extraordinary factors which arose shortly after PDDONOR's defection, the three documented commitments made to him as outlined in the previous paragraph were not fulfilled until some years after his defection. In this connection, the file indicates that PDFONOR/1 did not start receiving an Agency salary until March 1969, and that it was not until six years later that he began to be paid at the previously promised rate of $25,000 per annum. Accordingly, in order to belatedly satisfy in full the commitments originally made to PDDONOR/1 in 1964, lump-sum payments have been made to him on three occasions in recent years with the approval of senior Agency management. Briefly, these lump-sum payments consisted of: a) $125,000 (less times) in November 1972 to cover the balance owed for salery during the period April 1964 to March 1969; b) $15,000 in July 1973 to setfle the remainder due on the $50,000 obligation to PDDONOR/1 for his service in place overseas prior to his defection; and c) $28,500 fauthorized in April 1976 but evidently not paid until late last year) to cover the balance of his previously promised $25,000 annual salary for the period March 1969 - March 1975 as well as the $10,000 commitment originally made to PDDONOR/1 prior to his February 1964 defection (see paragraph 1(b) above) for his role in identifying a certain KGB operative in England.
- As previously stated, the sole issue for consideration at this point revolves around PDDONOR/1's relatively recent assertion that CIA still owes him $20,000 as a result of a vaguely worded oral commitment made to him by a nowretired Agency officer in 1964 who promised that CIA would provide housing for PDDONOR/1 in this country following his arrival. In analyzing PDDONOR/1's contentions in this regard, we believe for the following reasons that the details surrounding CIA's July 1973 payment to him of $15,000 assume particular significance and do, in fact, firmly rule out any further, outstanding legal obligation to him with respect to payments to cover PDDONOR/1's eventual purchase of a home. Of course, the key consideration involved is the fact that the $15,000 payment was made following PDDONOR/1's execution of a quitclaim prepared by this Office through which he agreed to "release and forever discharge... the Central Intelligence Agency...from any claim for money promised to him for, and/or at the time of his defection, and from any and all other claims...in any form whatsoever arising out of or in any way connected with his cooperation and association with... CIA prior to the date of this document, 12 July

Thus, the wording of the quitclaim is clearly and purposefully unconditional and is specifically intended to bar the kind of belatedly raised claim which PDDONOR/1 is making now.

- 4. In taking this position, we recognize that one could properly point out in rebuttal that notwithstanding the seemingly all-encompassing scope of the quitelaim, a further payment of $28,500 was in fact subsequently authorized for PDBONOR/1 in April 1976. However, as was noted in an internal OGC memorandum dated 1 April 1976 which concurred in this additional $28,500 payment, the real purpose of the 12 July release was to settle once and for all the issue of the balance of the $50,000 owed PDBONOR/1 for his two years of in-place cooperation prior to his defection. Accordingly, since the $28,500 payment was intended to satisfy other pre-existing commitments to PDBONOR/1 (i.e., back salary owed for 1964-1969 as well as the $10,000 promised for his role in identifying the KGB operative in England), this Office concluded at that time that the payment was legally permissible since it was outside the intended scope of the guitelaim and was being used to fulfill separate, fully docurented promises of compensation made earlier to him.
- By contrast, at the time that CIA made its July 1973 payment to PDDONOR/1 in return for his quitclaim, the available background materials contained in the files you have provided us leave little doubt that the issue of compensation to cover his purchase of a home was an intrinsic part of the calculations which led to the decision to authorize the $15,000 payment to him at that time. For instance, in the 25 June 1973 memorandum to Mr. Colby which contained the recommendation for the $15,000 payment, the Director of Security delineated some of the previous advances made to PDDONOR/I in partial satisfaction of the $50,000 owed to him for the 1962-64 period. It was specifically noted in that connection that [a]gainst this [$50,000] sum in April-May 1969, [PDDONOR/1] was given $8,000 as financial assistance for resettlement in the private economy and $25,000 in mid 1970 towards the purchase of a new house and other related expenses: (Emphasis added). These amounts plus an additional $2,000 which had been previously advanced were subtracted from the original $50,000 commitment, thus leading to the final figure of $15,000 that was subsequently paid to PDDONOR/1 in July 1973 and for which he readily signed the guitelaim releasing CIA from any further financial obligations to him. Director of Security's memorandum went on to indicate that PDDONOR/1 "agreed" with these calculations; morecoer PDDONOR/1's acknowledgment that CIA had previously fulfilled its commitments to him regarding a house is more explicitly documented in a 14 August 1972 memorandum for the file from the Deputy Chief, Security Research Group, which quotes PDDONOR/1 as saying that he "considers that the assistance in purchasing furniture, a house, etc. which he has been given since 1969 should be considered as cancelling the matter of the $50,000". (Emphasis added).

- 6. Therefore, from all of the above, it must be concluded that, contrary to PDDONOR/1's assertions, CIA has long since fulfilled any promises which Agency representatives made to him prior to his defection concerning his housing in this country. Further, the available evidence clearly tends to indicate that PDDONOR/1 fully understood and accepted the fact that these obligations had been fully met at the time that he signed his quitclaim in July 1971. Thus, since the terms and scope of the quitclaim are fully controlling on the claim which PDDONOR/1 is asserting, we have determined that the Agency has no legal obligation whatsoever to pay him the $20,000 which he seeks.
- 7. As a final note, this office recognizes that, notwithstanding the absence of any legal obligations, the particularly sensitive status of PDDONOR/1 within CIA may nevertheless give rise to an understandable desire in some quarters to make the $20,000 payment to him on security and/or moral grounds. We do not necessarily quarrel with such a view, nor do we mean to imply that CIA is legally procluded from, in effect, "waiving" the terms of the quitclaim if it so chooses. At the same time, it must be remembered that this office was asked to prepare the quitclaim at issue in 1973 precisely in anticipation of a situation such as the one before us now. It is respectfully submitted that such documents will cease to have any future efficacy or credibility whatsoever if individuals such as PDDONOR/1 who are ostensibly bound by them perceive a willingness on the part of CIA to set aside these carefully worded and legally binding documents whenever a claim (no matter how 111-founded) is advanced. In short, we hope and trust that any decision to pay PDDONOR/1 the $20,000 at issue despite the quitclaim and documented evidence to the contrary will be based on truly compelling security or moral considerations.

Gontract Amendment for Bruce A. BERTOTALLY

1. Action Requested: It is requested that the contract for Bruce A. BERTOTALLY, an Independent Contractor, be amended by changing the last sentence of Paragraph 5, Allowances, Travel, and Other Expenses, to read as follows:

"If, in the course of this contract, you are directed to travel or are authorized to incur other expenses, reimbursement of such expenses will be made on a commuted rate basis, based on constructive cost, while in the Washington metropolitan area. This commuted rate sum will not be reduced by any operational entertainment that may be provided to you."

2. Background: Because of the current wording in paragraph 5 of BERTOTALLY's contract, C/PCS/CSS/BEF believes that a reduction in BERTOTALLY's commuted rate entitlement must be made when operational emtertainment (meals) are provided him by his case officer. This interpretation is based on the present wording in the contract stating that reimbursement for expenses will be in "substantial accordance with CTA regulations." Since under CIA regulations a reduction in per diem is effected when meals are provided by the Government, C/PCS/GSS/BEF believes the language of the contract should be amended to permit operational entertainment (meals) to be provided to Subject without resultant deduction in his commuted rate reimbursement.

3. All other term remain in full force ar	ns and cord	itions of the contract

Dear Hr. Bertotally:

Reference is made to your contract with the United States Government, as represented by the Contral Intelligence Acency, effective 1 March 1970, as smeaded, with specific reference to the amendment effective 1 June 1977 pertaining to travel as authorized in paragraph five (5) entitled "Allowances, Travel and other Expenses." Effective 1 June 1977 the last sentence of said paragraph, the sense of which pertains to the imposition and the subjectivety of funds received under the contract to taxes, is deleted in its entirety.

Effective 25 January 1978 said contract is further amended by expanding the supposed paragraph four (4), entitled "Compansation" to provide for the authorization of a one-time, lump sum payment in the amount of $1,404.

All other terms and conditions of the contract, as amended, remain in full force and effect.

On 7 February 1977 former Chief CI Staff agreed to reimburse for the interest payments on a car which he purchased so that he would be ready and available for work when we needed him. The monthly interest charge as of December 1977 is slightly less than $39.00 and it is

Contract Amendment for Bruce A. BERTOTALLY

1. Action Requested: It is requested that the contract for Bruce A. BERTOTALLY, an independent Contractor, be amended retroactive to 1 June 1977 detecting the last sentence of paragraph 3, concerning the taxability of operational travel by his wife, of a previous amendment effective 1 June 1977. It is further requested that a one-time payment of $1,404 to BERTOTALLY be authorized to offset the tax he is required to pay on the $3,100 which represents his wife's travel expenses on their last operational trip abroad, which appeared on BERTOTALLY's W-2 form for 1977 as additional taxable income.

2. Background: After CI Staff assumed responsibility for BERTOTALLY in July 1976, based on requirements developed by the field, he was asked if he would be willing to undertake occasional operational trips abroad

BERTOTALLY agreed, but was adament that he would only do so if the Agency would allow his wife to accompany him not only for purposes of companionship but also to enhance his security. Because this was his condition to such overseas operational travel and because it was felt her presence would contribute to his good morale, effectiveness in the performance of his mission, and also preclude his possibly creating potentially embarrassing incidents for us and the host liaison services; Chief,

E2 IMPDET CL BY 012208

CI Staff made a personal commitment to BERTOTALLY that he could indeed have his wife accompany him on any operational trips abroad, if he chose to have her do so, and that her travel expenses would be borne by the Agency. It was understood that her travel expenses would be limited to the cost of her travel and per diem.

Subsequent to this agreement BERTOTALLY took three separate trips abroad accompanied by his wife developed for lowing the lift two trips, vouchers submitted after each trip, claiming their joint costs as operational, expenses, were honored without question. However, following their last joint trip abroad her travel expenses of $3,100 were interpreted as additional taxable income. BERTOTALLY considers this a violation of the commitment made to him and has demanded that the Agency pay him a sum equivalent to the additional Federal and state taxes he will have to pay as a result of our unilateral decision on this matter.

Presently we already have three separate trips abroad planned for BERTOTALLY during 1978. We are convinced that unless we reimburse him for the $1,404 additional tax he must pay for 1977 and assure him that his wife can accompany him on future operational trips abroad at Agency expense and without having such expenses declared as additional income, he will refuse to go on any more trips abroad on our behalf.

Action Requested: It is requested that the contract an Independent Contractor, be for amended retroactive to 9 October 1977 to increase his compensation from $33,000 per annum to $35,327. This represents a cost of living increase of 7.05 per cent. It is further requested that a clause be included in contract to the effect that he is entitled to the equivalent of any future cost-of-living increases granted to Agency employees.)

2. Background: was recruited by the Agent in Switzerland in 1962 and promised $25,000 per year while was recruited by the Agency working as an agent in place. He later defected to this country. In July 1976 responsibility for him was transferred from the Office of Security to the CI Staff and he continues to be of great assistance to this Staff as well as to the FBI.

> E2 IMPDET CL BY 012208

The remuneration that he receives from the Agency is his family's sole means of support. He was given cost-of-living increases in the past and when CI Staff assumed responsibility for him he was assured by the Chief. CI Staff that he would continue to receive such increases in the future. In early becember 1977 he inquired why his pay did not already reflect the 7.05 per cent increase given to Agency employees in October. We believe it to be in the best interests of the US Government to honor all commitments made to him and to assure that he continues to identify himself positively with the Agency.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Contract Personnel Division

FROM : Chief, PCS/CSS/B&F

SUBJECT : Contract Amendment - Bruce A. BERTOTALLY

1. We are in receipt of a copy of subject contract amendment dated 27 June 1977. To administer the conditions of this amendment, there are two questions which come to mind:

a. The amendment provides that travel of subject's dependent wife may be authorized "when it is determined by the responsible Government official that such travel will support and best serve operational interests and objectives." Under the provisions of IR 22-2a (18) (now in the process of amendment), TDY travel for dependents of an employee must be approved by a Deputy Director. Further, under the OGC ruling 77-1264, TDY travel for a dependent "should not be authorized, save the Deputy Director's discretion. It should be changed to preclude any possible interpretation of which would give rise to TDY junkets for wives and dependents at Government expense." While it is recognized that subject is in fact an Independent Contractor, the entire subject of dependents TDY travel is a delicate issue, and because of this, we ask that your office identify the level of the "responsible Government official" who must approve the operational necessity travel of subject's wife.

2_IMPORT OL BY

b. Query, if the TDY travel of subject's wife is in fact properly approved, not as an operational necessity, but for matters "essential to her health", do these payments in fact become taxable income. The regulations define an Independent Contractor as a self-employed individual who may be paid a fee for certain services or products, and generally contracts provide for reimbursement for necessary operational expenses. We have no difficulty in certifying the wife's travel when it can be classified as an operational necessity. However, as both references provide authority only to Deputy Directors to approve dependent operational TDY travel, this also gives rise as to what level of authority is required to authorize travel for a dependent wife to accompany her husband on a TDY trip "as a matter essential to her health." It is requested that we be advised of the level of the "resonsible Covernment official" who can approve such travel. Further, as subject's contract draws a line between the operational necessity travel and that travel essential to her health, we would appreciate being advised if the non-operational travel payments for subject's wife represents taxable imcome.

Dear Mr. Bertotally:

Reference is made to your contract with the United States Government, as represented by the Contracting Officer, effective 1 March 1970.

Effective 1 June 1977 paragraph five (5) entitled "Allowances, Travel and other Expenses" is amended by expanding its scope to authorize the concurrent, voluntary, travel of your dependent wife, including the appropriate rate of per diem, when it is determined by the responsible Government official that such travel will support and best serve operational interests and objectives. The extent and destinations of such dependent travel will be as designated and defined by such official and, when in the course of such travel it is determined as a matter of operational necessity or as a matter essential to her health and well being that she remain at some particular place in the course of such travel while you continue on to specific geographical locations in fulfillment of operational missions, continuation of her per diem will be authorized for such periods. All monies advanced or reimbursed you hereunder by the Government and for the purposes herein indicated are determined to be additional income to you and as such considered to be taxable for federal income tax-purposes.

It is also understood and agreed by all concerned, and is herein so confirmed, that this amendment is in no way intended or should be construed as obligating your dependent wife to accompany you on travel abroad, under the terms of this agreement. It is also understood and agreed that the U. S. Government neither infers or assumes any liability of whatsoever nature concerning her health and well being if she freely elects to undertake such travel.

All other terms and conditions of the contract, as amended, remain infull force and effect.

FROM: Chief, PCS/CSS/BGF

SUBJECT : Contract Amendment - Bruce A. BERTOTALLY

1. We are in receipt of a copy of subject contract amendment dated 27 June 1977. To administer the conditions of this amendment, there are two questions which come to mind:

dependent wife may be authorized "when it is determined by the responsible Government official that such travel will support and best serve operational interests and objectives." Under the provisions of HR 22-2a (18) (now in the process of amendment), TDY travel for dependents of an employee must be approved by a Deputy Director. Further, under the OCC ruling 77-1264, TDY travel for a dependent "should not be authorized, save the Deputy Director's discretion." It should be changed to preclude any possible interpretation of which would give rise to TDY junkets for wives and dependents at Government expense." While it is recognized that subject is in fact an Independent Contractor, the entire subject of dependents TDY travel is a delicate issue, and because of this, we ask that your office identify the level of the "responsible Government official" who must approve the operational necessity travel of subject's wife.

b. Query, if the TDY travel of subject's wife is in fact properly approved, not as an operational necessity, but for matters "essential to her health", do these payments in fact become taxable income. The regulations define an Independent Contractor as a self-employed individual who may be paid a fee for certain services or products, and generally contracts provide for reimbursement for necessary operational expenses. We have no difficulty in certifying the wife's travel when it can be classified as an operational necessity. However, as both references provide authority only to Deputy Directors to approve dependent operational TDY travel, this also gives rise as to what level of authority is required to authorize travel for a dependent wife to accompany her husband on a TDY trip "as a matter essential to her health." It is requested that we be advised of the level of the "resonsible Government official" who can approve such travel. Further, as subject's contract draws a line between the operational necessity travel and that travel essential to her health, we would appreciate being advised if the non-operational travel payments for subject's wife represents taxable income.

SUBJECT

Amendment to Contract for

Bruce A. BERTOTALLY (P)

- 1. Action Requested: It is requested that paragraph five (5) entitled "Allowances, Travel and other expenses" of Bruce A. BERTOTALLY's contract dated 1 March 1970, as amended, be further amended effective 1 June 1977 to permit his wife to accompany him on travel abroad.
- BERTOTALLY'S contract makes no provision for his wife to accompany him when traveling abroad at our request. This amendment will make such travel possible when at the option and direction of the Central Intelligence Agency it is believed that such travel will materially improve his cover and security and substantially contribute to the performance of his mission. The requested change in paragraph five (5) should in no way obligate BERTOTALLY's wife to accompany her husband on travel abroad nor does it assume any liability if she freely elects to make such travel.

All other terms and conditions of the contract remain in full force and effect.
